Black Prophecy is now in open beta for european users!

Download the client here.

Also, in their latest update(s), they changed the mouse cursor to more resemble Freelancer's intuitive control scheme:

Quote:

CONTROLS

- Steering and aiming has been revised. The control of the ship has been changed and should now be more intuitive
- The crosshair position is now free from the ship's direction, allowing a slight offset to the projectile's direction

So it might be worth to check out the game again if you have been turned down by the controls before!

Check out the change log here!
